

May 12, 1942.

Horace Partridge,
1207 Walnut St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Gentlemen:

I am in receipt of a statement from you, stating that I owed a balance of $433.21. There must be some mistake, as I have only ordered and received two gross of baseballs which were $288.59, plus 10 pr. sock and 20 caps, for which I have not yet received the bill on same.

On May 5th I mailed you a check in the sum of $216.72 in payment of one and a half gross of baseballs, therefore, I still owe you for one-half gross of balls also for caps and socks.

I would highly appreciate your going over my account and sending me an itemized statement just what is my correct balance.

Very truly yours,

EM:CCJ